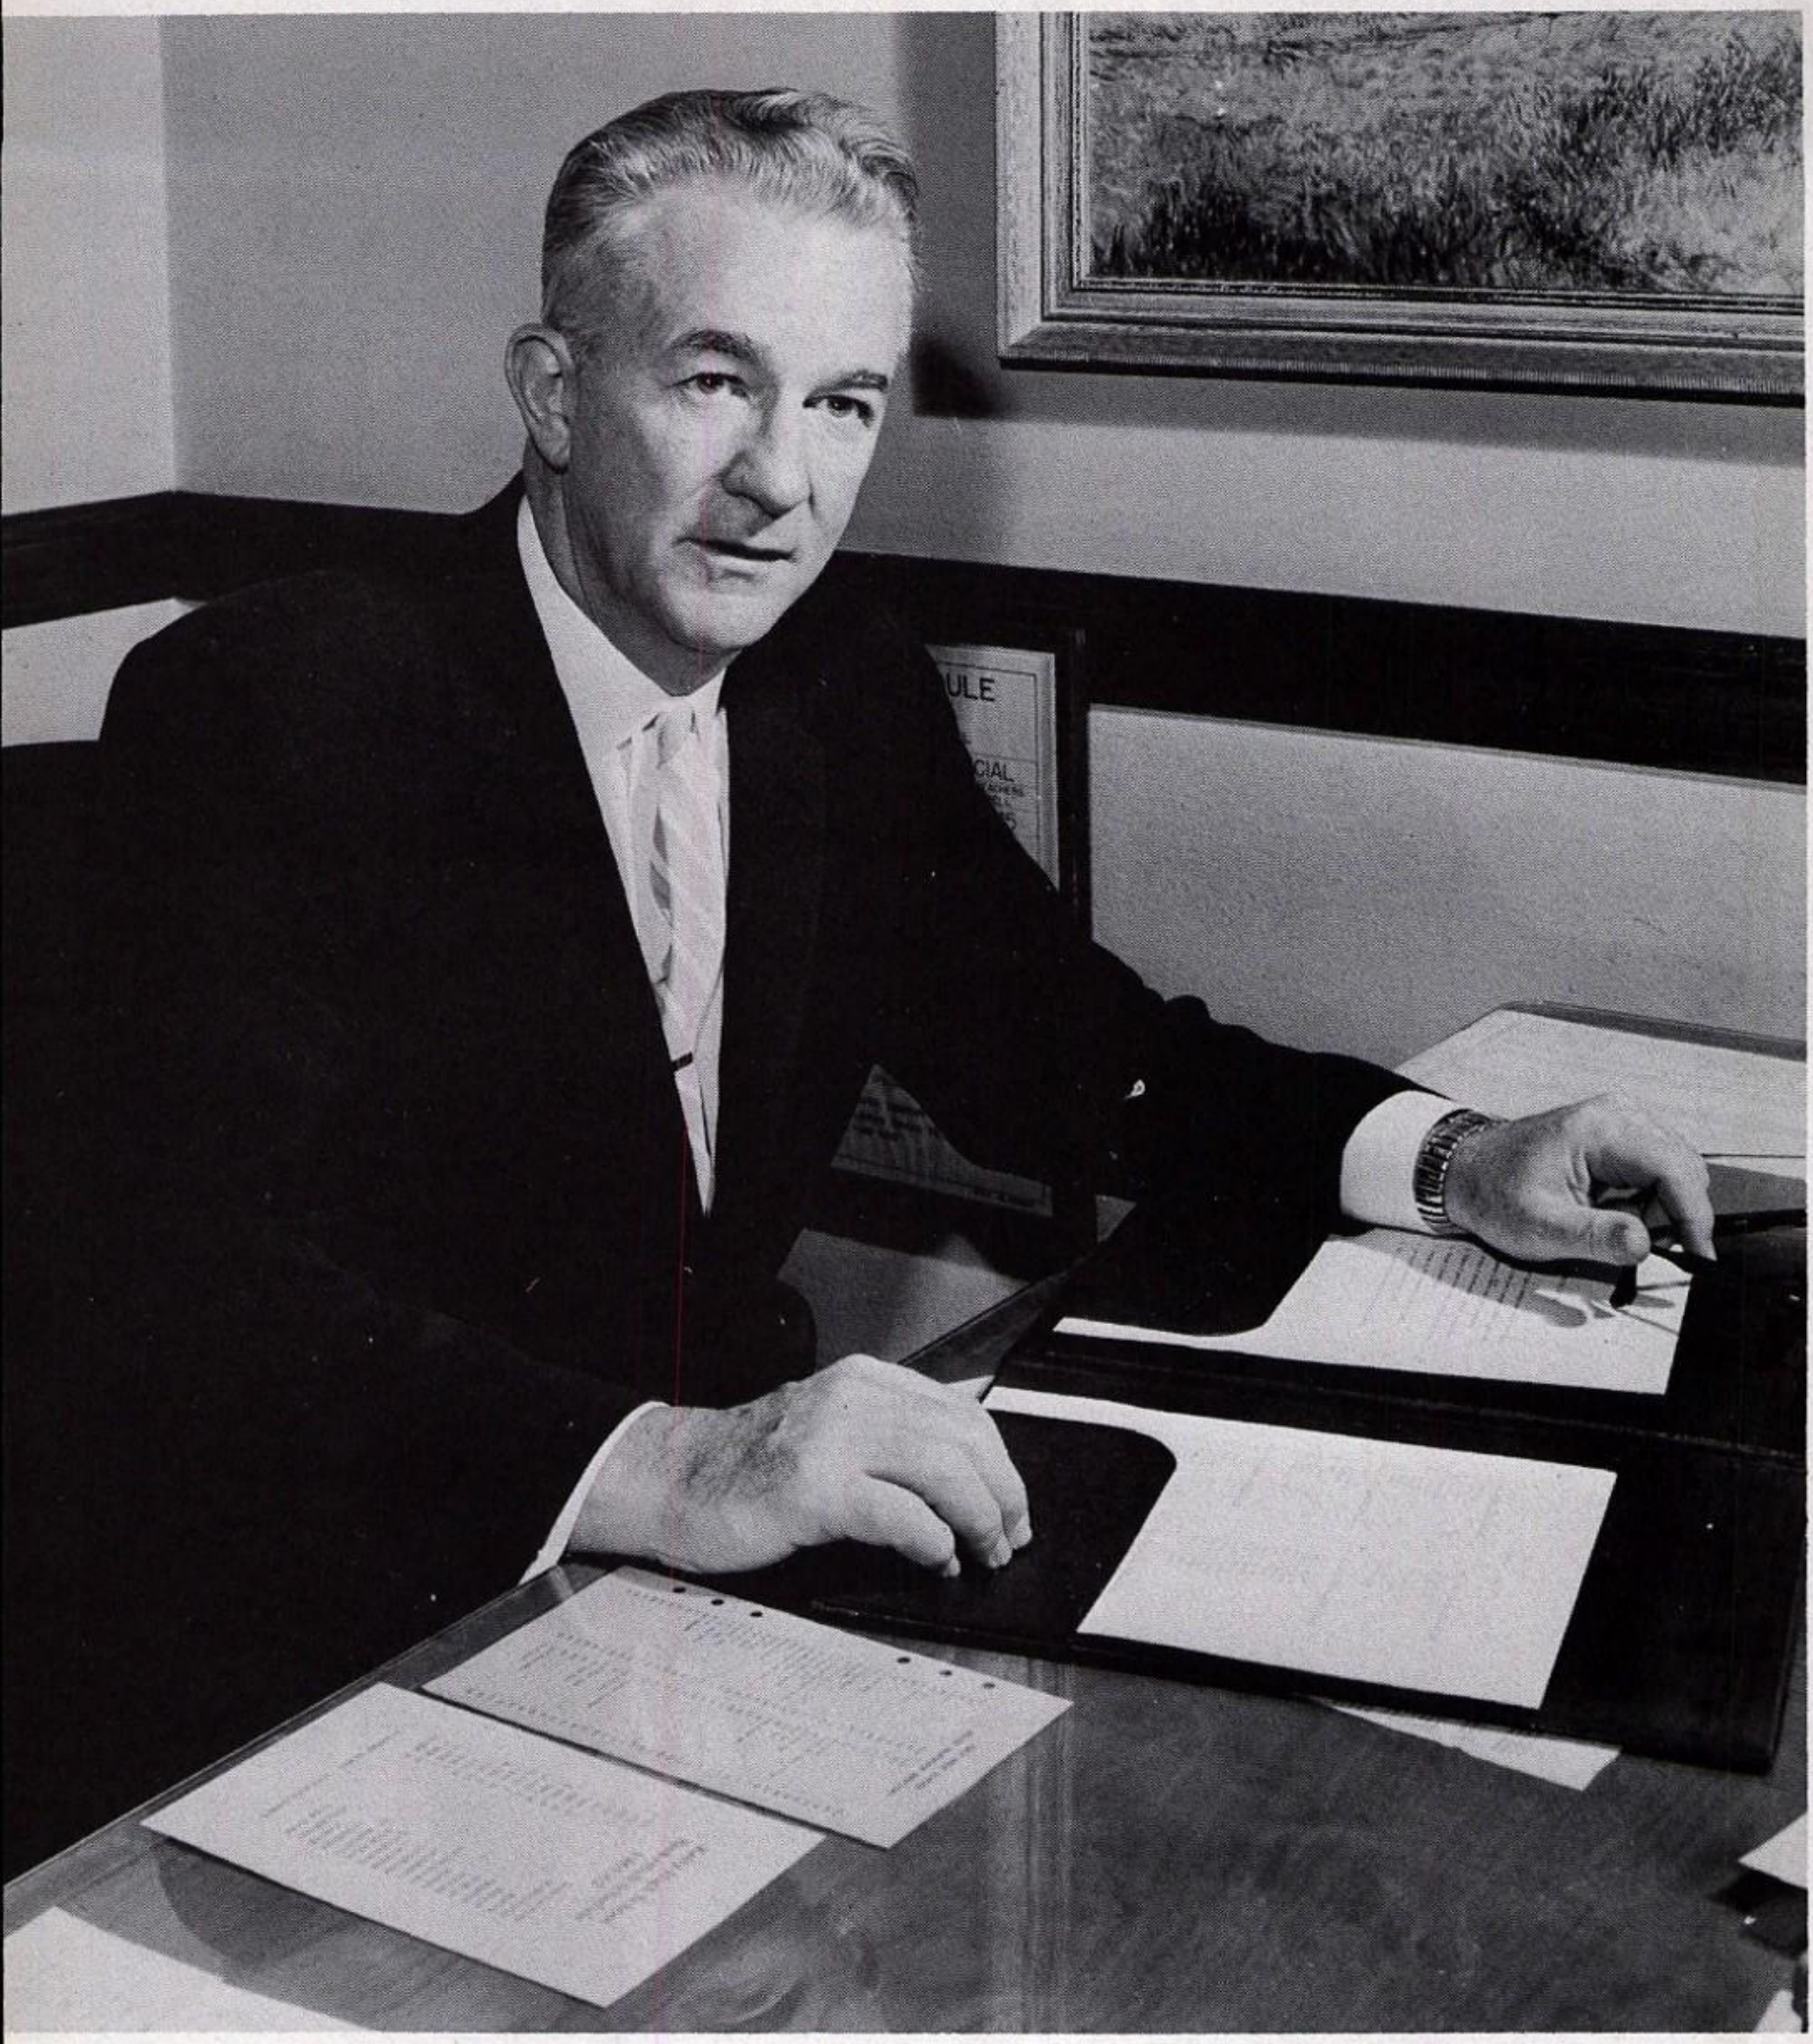
"CHICAGO, CHICAGO, A WONDERFUL TOWN"

Here it is — your city, Chicago, a city that is unique, a city with countless opportunities for each of you, a city with a multitude of interesting places. We have chosen Chicago as our theme because it is a wonderful town and it is the hometown of Kelly and Kelly's students. As you turn the pages of the yearbook you will recognize many familiar landmarks. We hope that you will enjoy this view of Chicago as much as we enjoyed creating it for you.



Mr. Edmund B. Daly, Principal

The students of Kelly have the help of a dedicated principal as they prepare for their future during their high school years.

We study Chicago - its people, government, and history -

CLASSROOM SCENES

Kelly's students study Chicago in their History, Government, and Geography Classes; they find also that they learn about Chicago indirectly in other classes

CHICAGO
AMERICAN GOVERNMENT

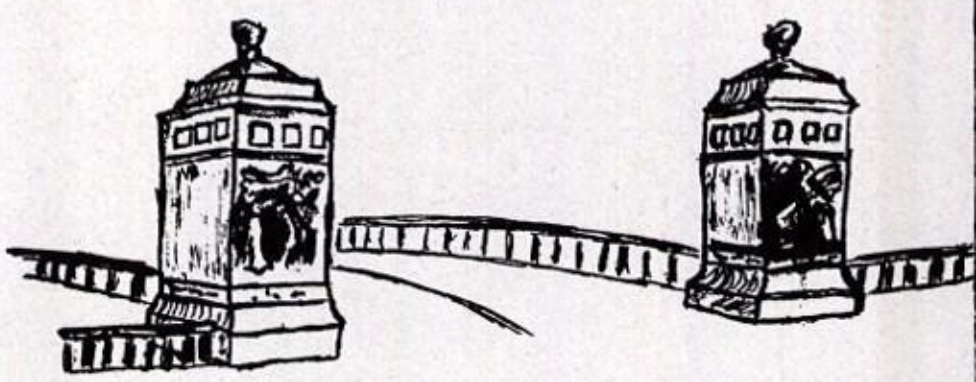
U. S. History

The life of Abe Lincoln is studied by Stanley Stankos, Wesley Mika, Ronald Rozycki, Diane Melton, Alice Grieshem.



PROGRESS IS OUR PROMISE

Economics

Do you know the importance of a dollar? These students do.

Bookkeeping
"Man, my debits don't equal my credits", say Karen Rueter and Bonnie Rife to Raymond Grajewski, Carol Carnes, and Loretta Ehrl.

Geometry
Using their math knowledge Rosemary Rekar, Kathy Biga, and Karen Ruducki measure the height of the Prudential Building from its shadow.

merican History
These students are recall-g to mind all of the omentous events connected ith the history of our home wn, Chicago.

Chemistry

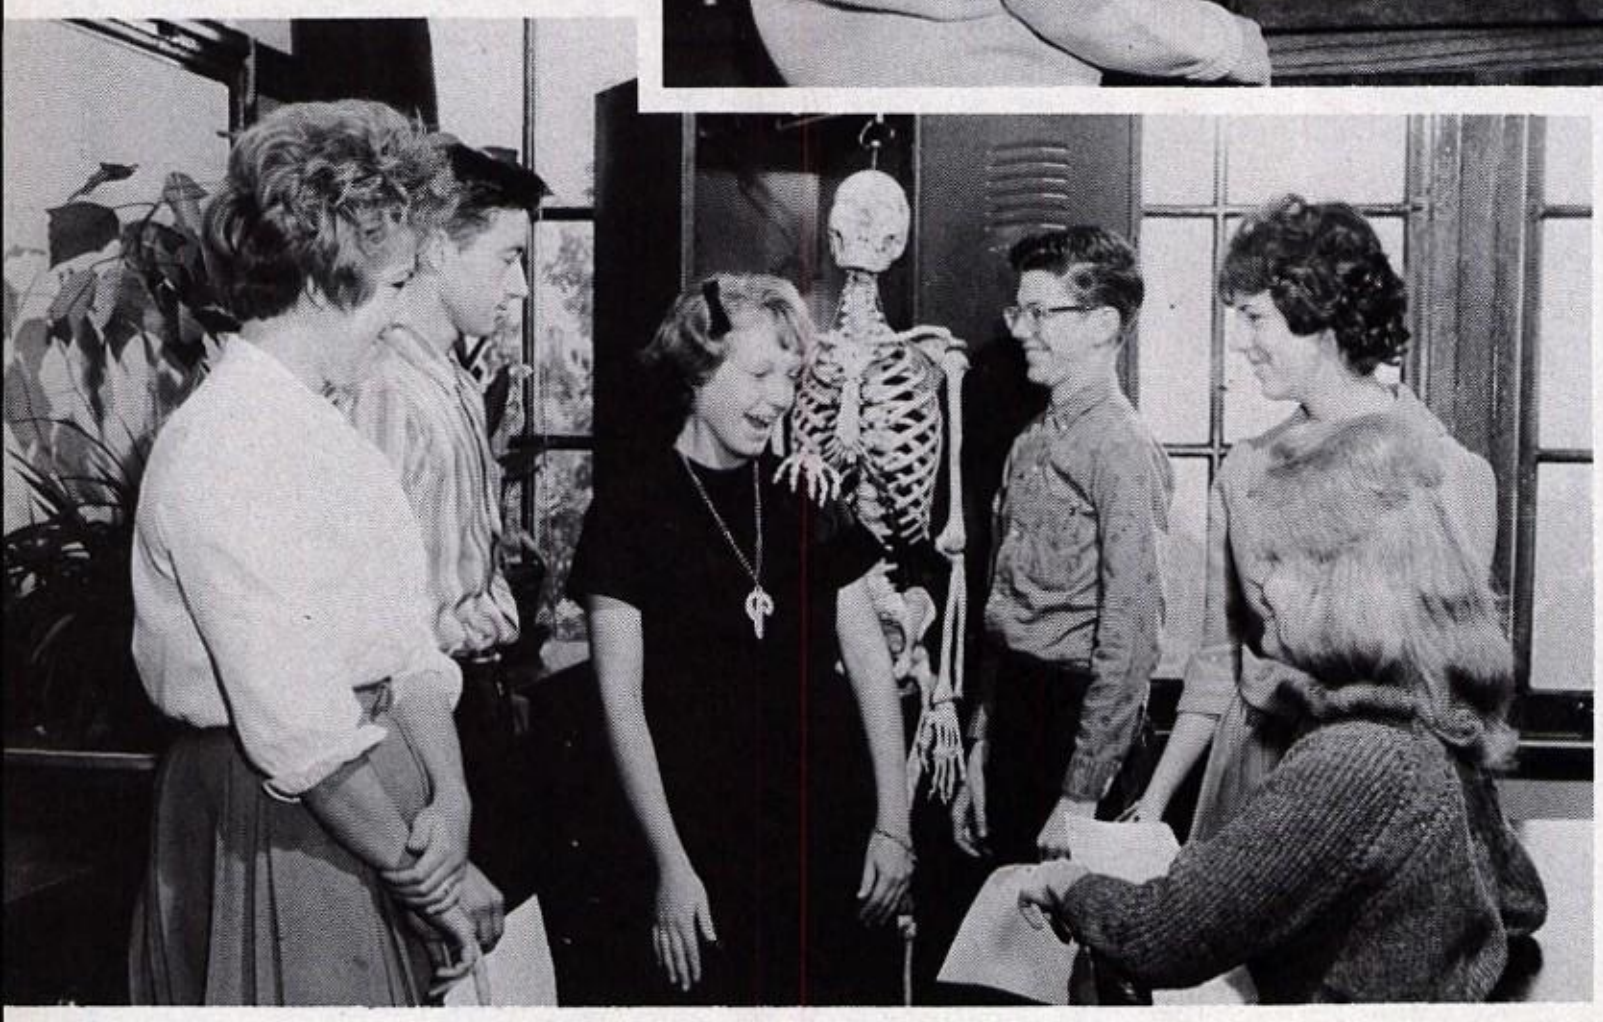
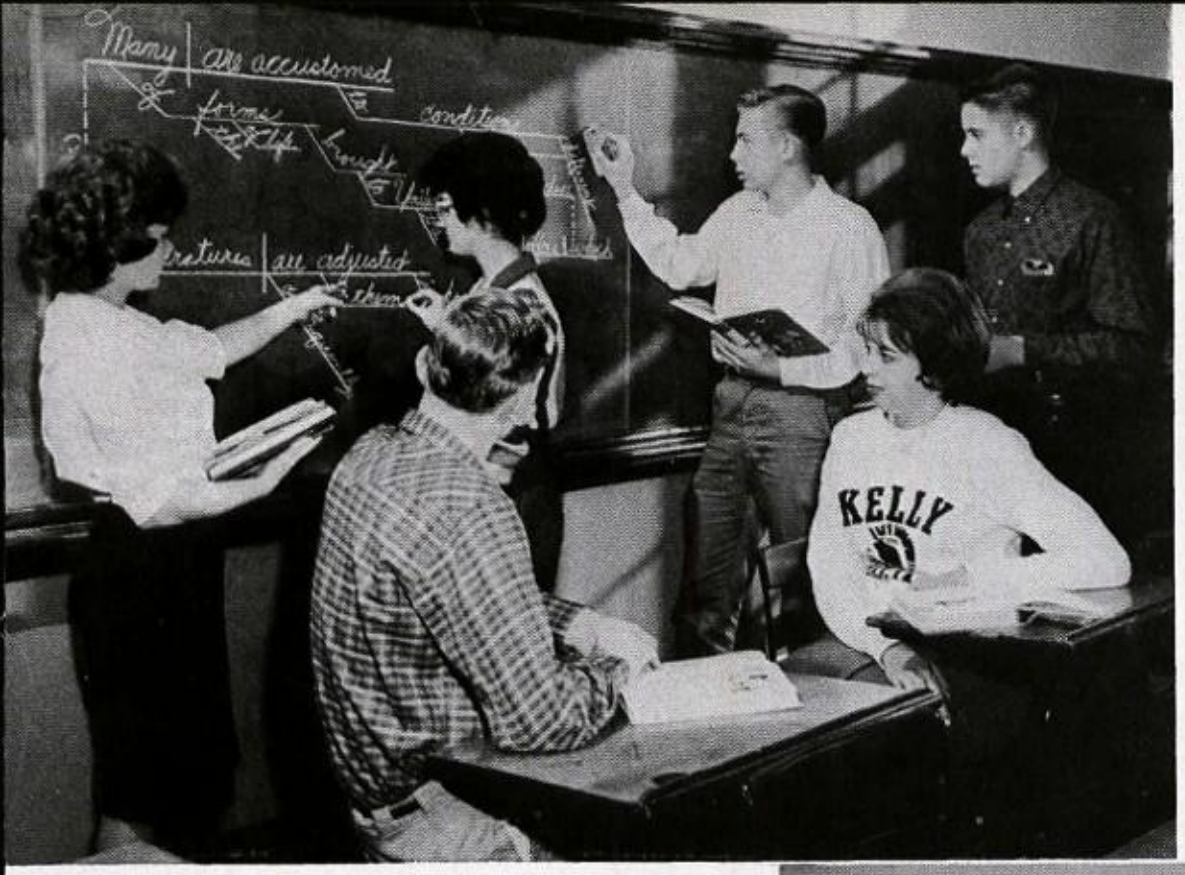
Physics

But isn't this the hard way to blow up balloons for the party?" asks Jeffrey Zuro; Judi Lisanti and Norine Broderick are much too busy to answer.



Biology

A Chicago citizen of a bygone day drops in to pay a visit to several members of the biology class, (L. to R.) Penny Zawacki, Dan Burris, Paulette Yonkosky, George Hostettler, Joane Dvorak, and Janice Palait.



ENGLISH

"I'm in a prepositional phrase daze", says Carol Kowaiski, to Lynn Campbell, Frank Wierus, Gary Oos, James Heath, and Alice Alexander.

LEARNING LANGUAGES

FRENCH

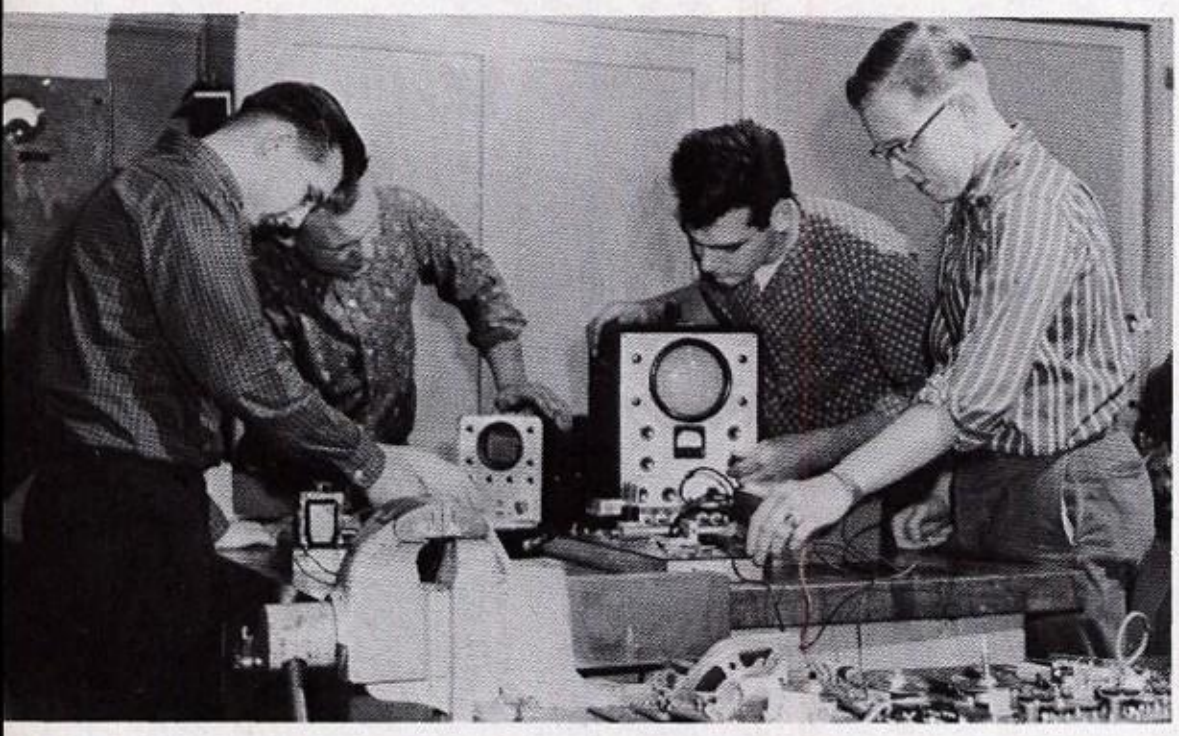
"We smile and pout and French comes out", say (L. to R.) Milda Pakalniskis, Anton Wenskus, Barbara Filonovich, Rosemary Duma, and James Kuch.

SPANISH

"Vamos a escuchar nuestra Lección de español."

MECHANICAL DRAWING

"So that's how you make them," says Ron Rozycki to Bill Susralski, Ray Kopacz, and Mitch Ramski.



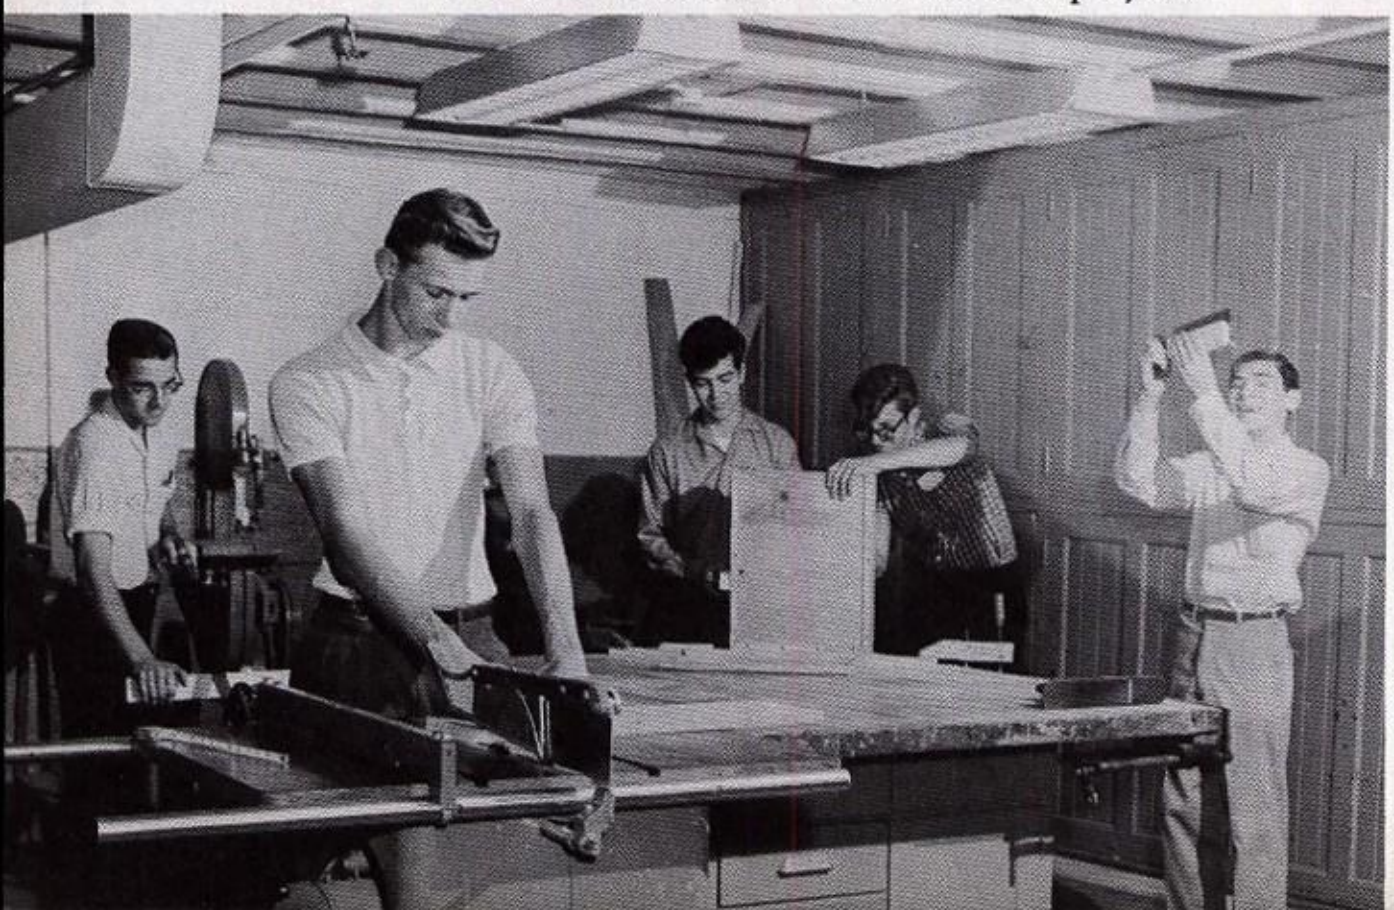
NOW. . .

ELECTRIC SHOP

"Sparks — that's what they call me," says Dennis Schiffer, as he helps Ronald Rozycki, Hugo Laube, and Elmer Mantel set up the testing equipment.

WOOD SHOP

"I'm 3/10 of an inch off," says James Talaber, as Tom Morong, Peter Borg, Christopher Faircloth, and Joseph Faircloth continue to work on their projects.



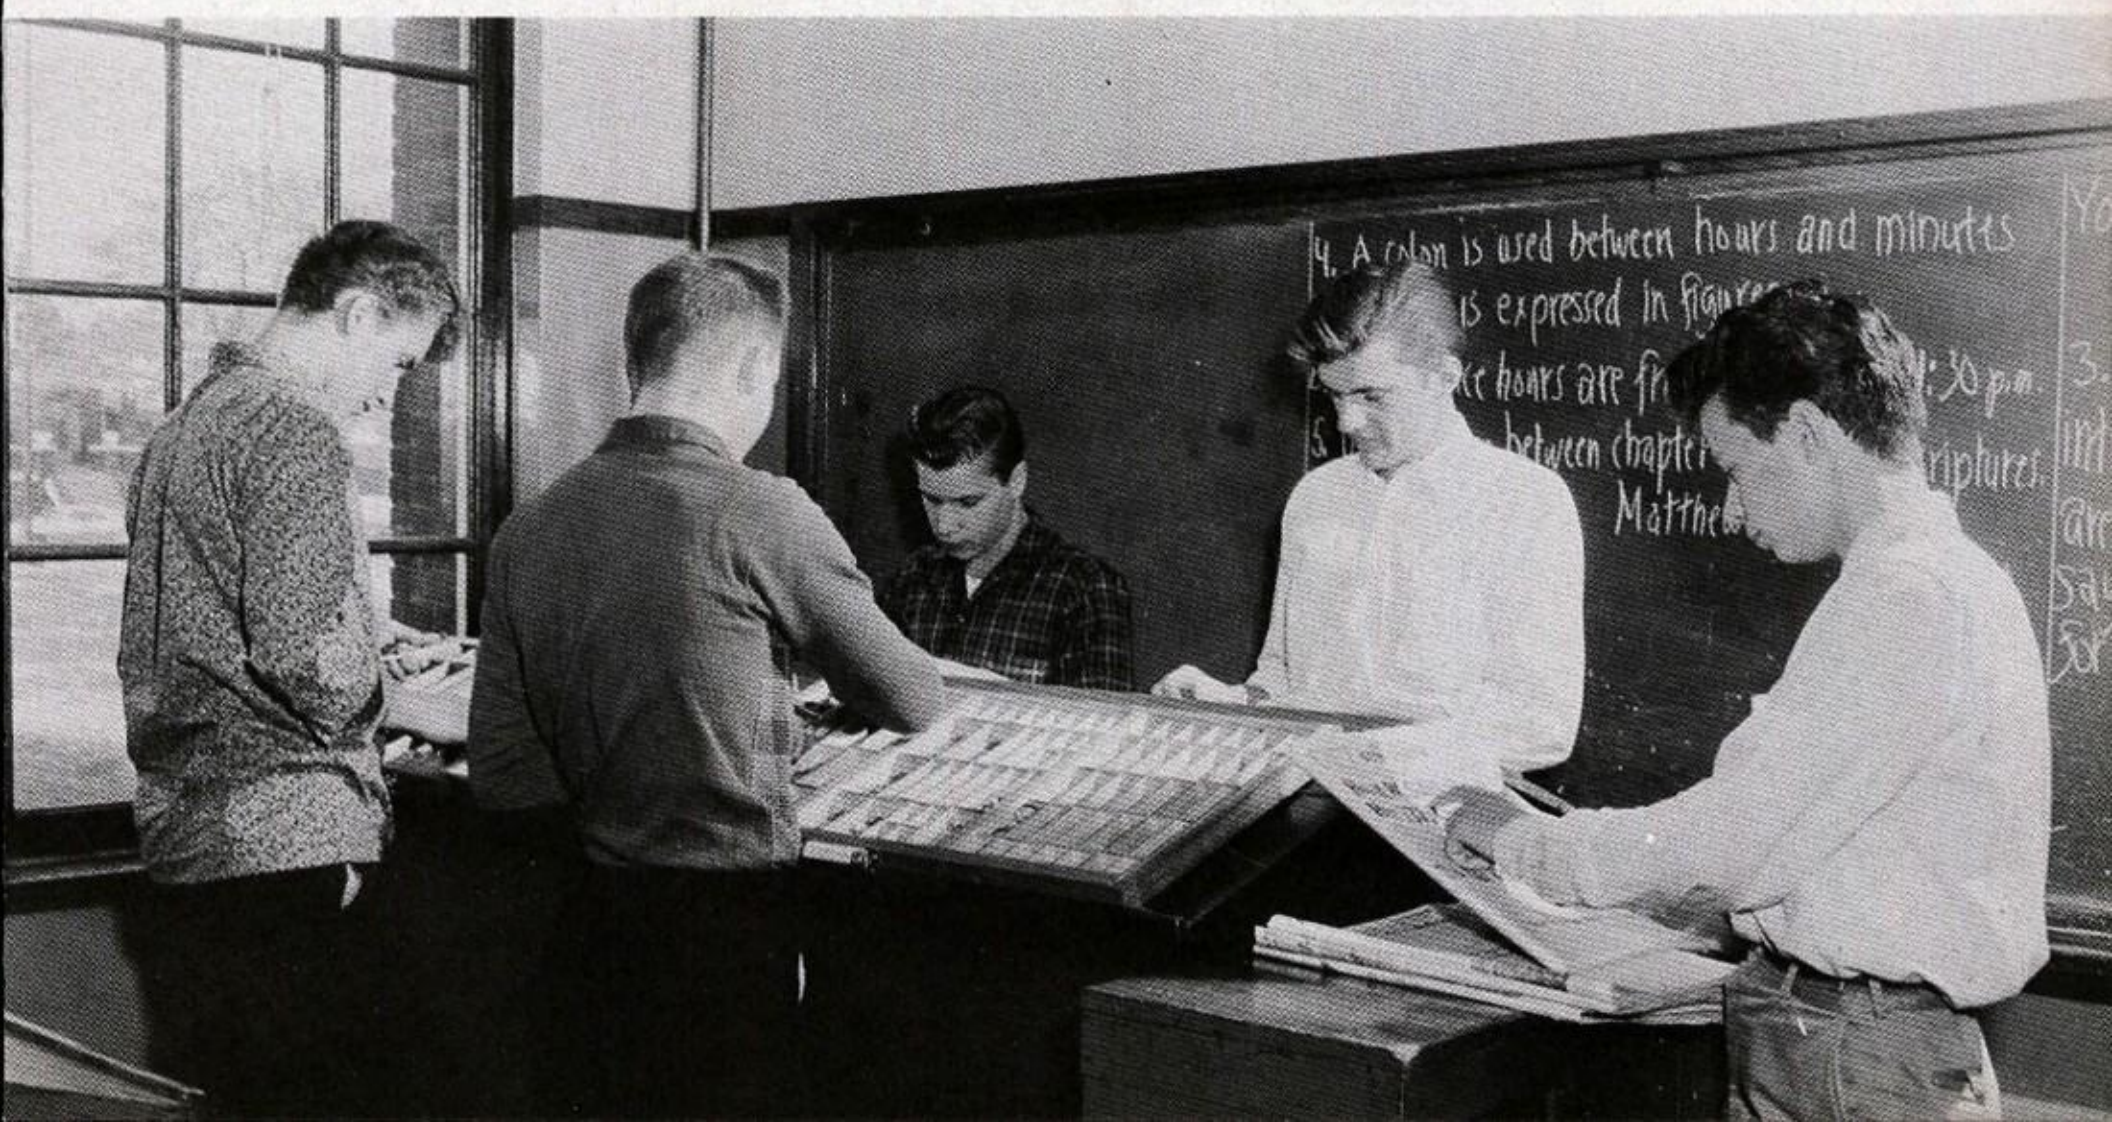
CLERICAL PRACTICE

Doing it now and maybe forever, these students learn to operate various machines.

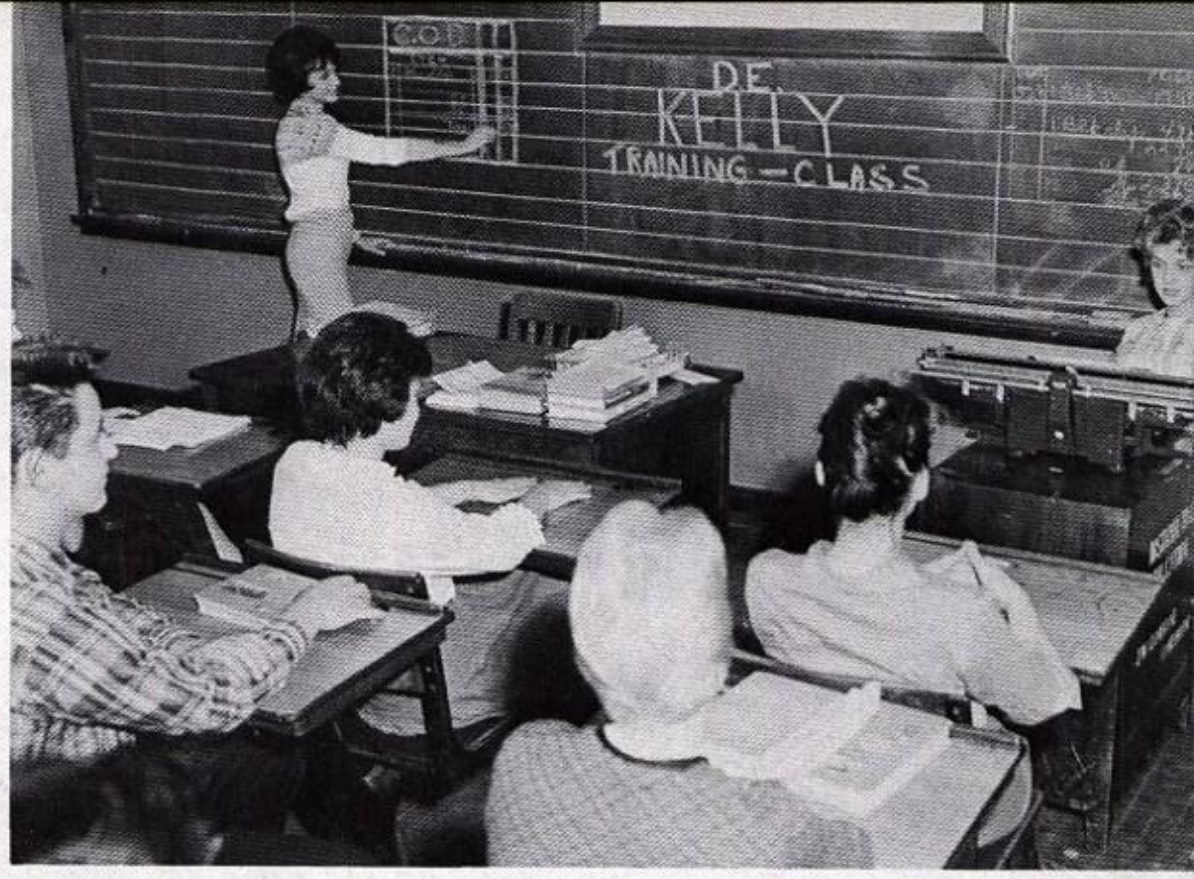
AND FOREVER

PRINT SHOP

"We do everything in the line of printing from program cards to blue slips", says Peter Ciambrone to (L. to R.) James Maas, Clyde Bednarz, James Forslin, and Thomas Hefferman.



INTERESTED AND INDUSTRIOUS



DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

Explaining techniques of distribution are Gayle Gurinovich and Karen Green. (L. to R.) Lee Kurcizak, Sharon Adaska, Marlene Kalinsky, and Sharon Stolarz listen attentively.

CLOTHING

"Just like the one downtown," says Judy Witkowski to Diane Gedrois, and Nancy Wiedrec.

FOODS

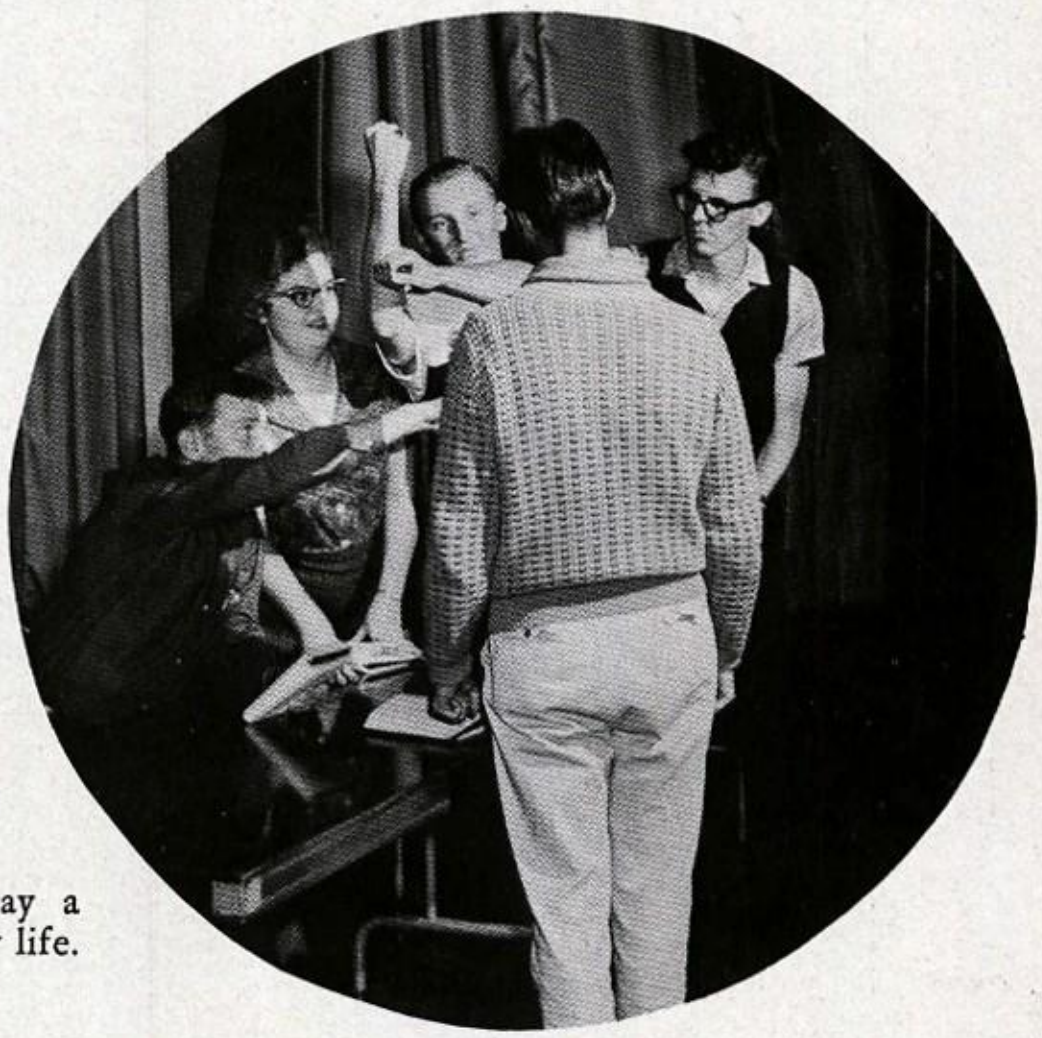
PUBLIC SPEAKING
Generations may change but not procedures, as demonstrated by Carol Cygan, William Calabretta, and Ronald Reks.

ACTORS AND ARTISTS



DRAMA
Drama students portray a tense moment in family life.

ART
Chicago's artists create in clay.

SENIORS

The Garfield Park Conservatory presents a striking example of the words on the Chicago seal "Urbs in Horto" — City in a Garden. Few people realize the quiet beauty next to the bold skyline; these Kelly seniors, Chicago's future citizens, have found it.

ACTIVITIES

SCHOOL AND CITY

Since school and city are in very close unison in Chicago, it is natural this activity section represent both phases of the student's life. Theaters and honor societies, museums and football games, concerts and Kapers are some things which find their way into the Kelly-ans' busy life.

KELLY'S TOP TEENS

"Congratulations", says Miss Eastlund to Linda Lowery as she receives her gold pin.

New members of the National Honor Society proudly receive their membership into one of the finest organizations at Kelly.

"Smile! You're on Kelly's Candid Camera!" These parents, guests at the team after the membership ceremonies, and their sons and daughters were not expecting this picture so we hope that they are really surprised.

Here we have a friendly social group who seem to be talking about an interesting conversation at the Community Council Dance.

Trying to capture the beauty of giggling Karen Prolop is photographer Jim Auskalinas.

Caught in the act of having fun.

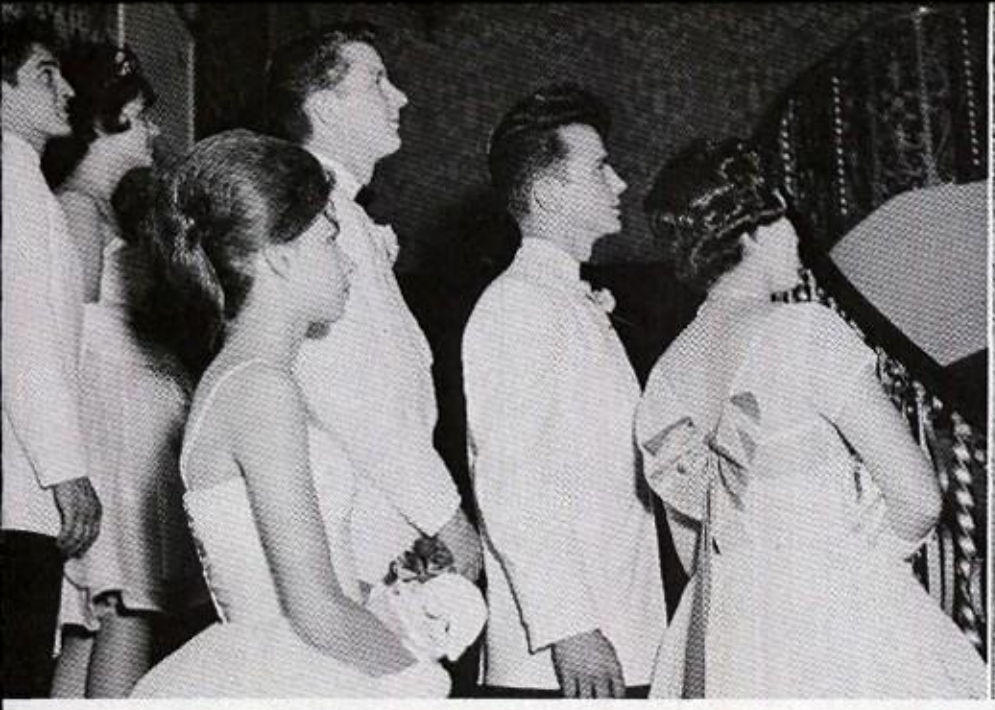
This is our beautiful home-coming queen, Barbara Jozaitis.

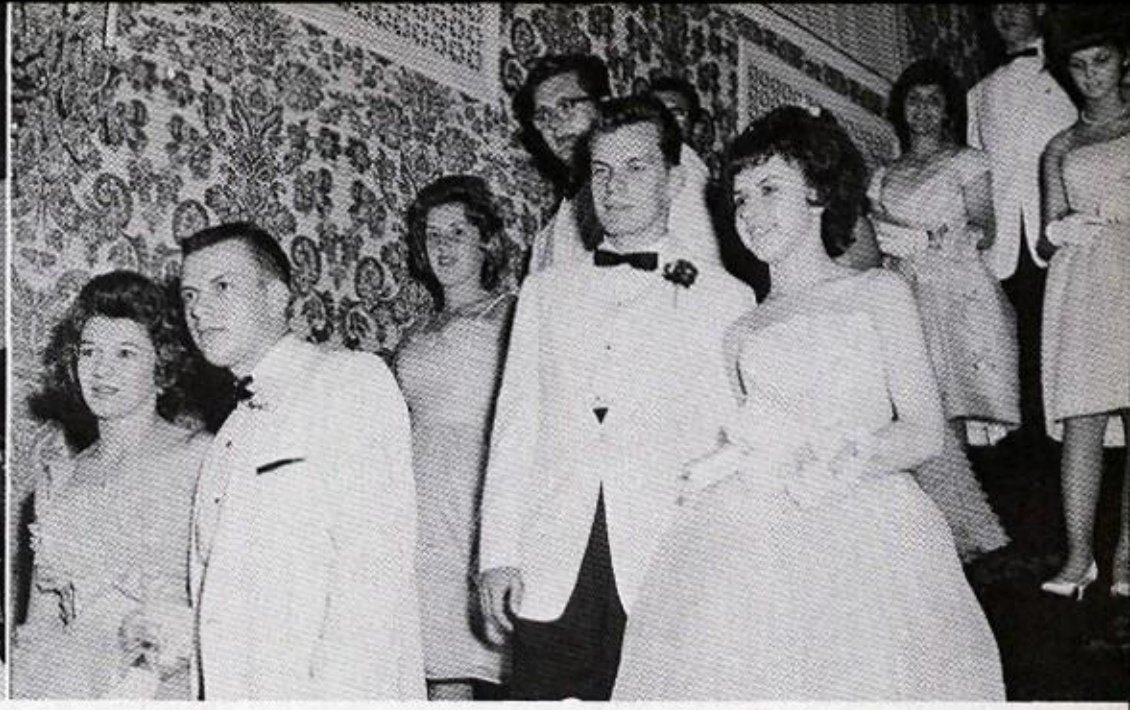
Our Fellow Kellyans are shown here doing the Twist.

The band playing for the Clean-Up Dance is our own Vari-Tones.

Smile, you're on Candid Camera

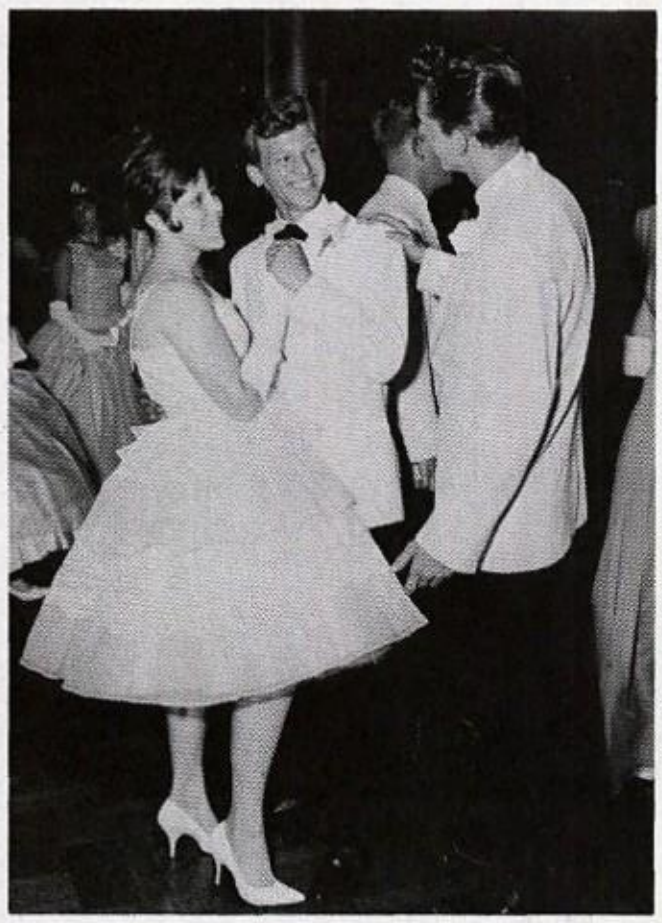


"Fascination"



"Enter the land of enchantment."

STARLIT NIGHT

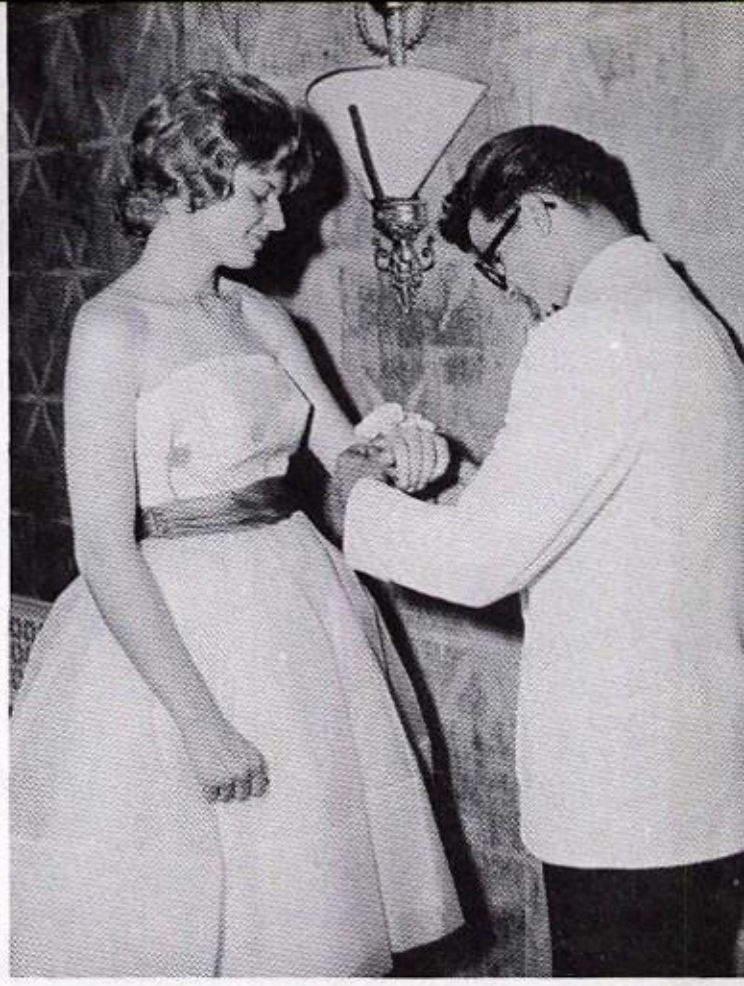


"May I?"

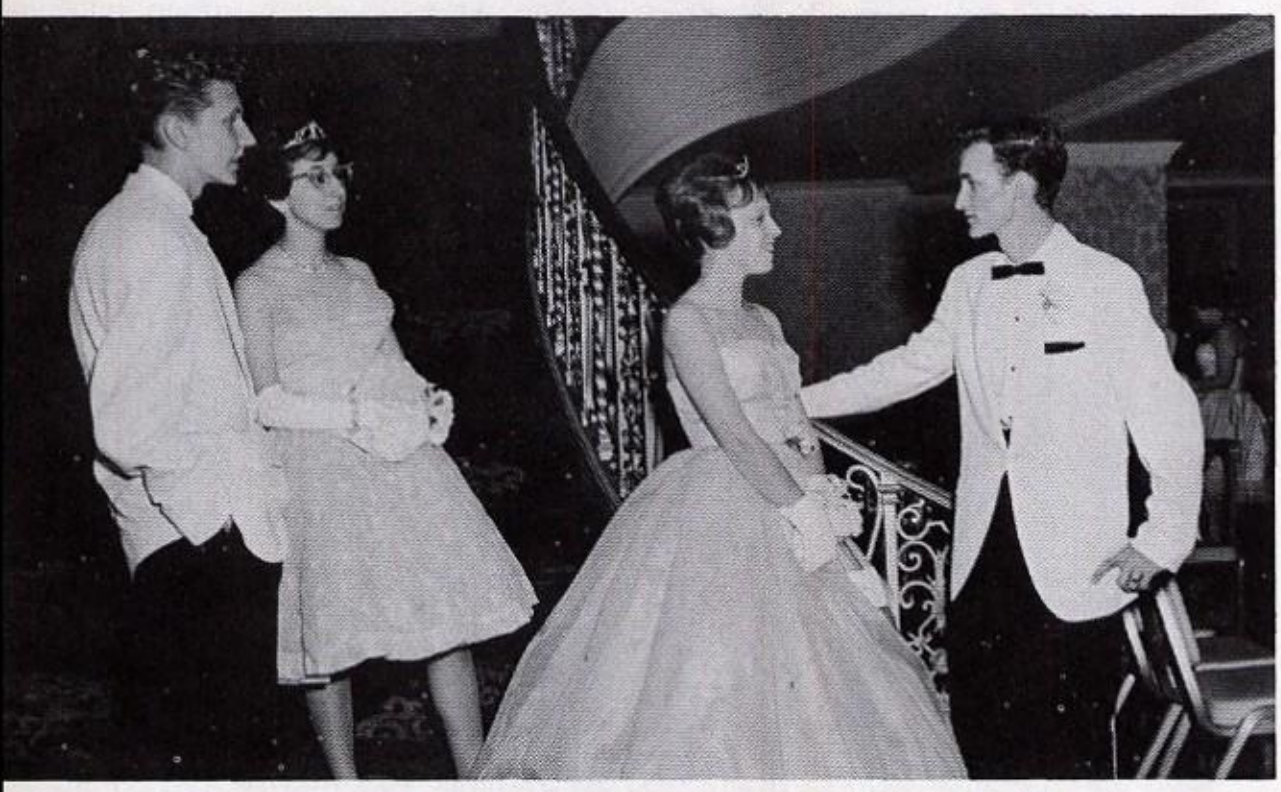
"The stars at night are big and bright. . . . . clap, clap, clap. . . "

Dream maker, you heart breaker. . . . "

"Having a wonderful time."



"Something lovely for someone lovely."

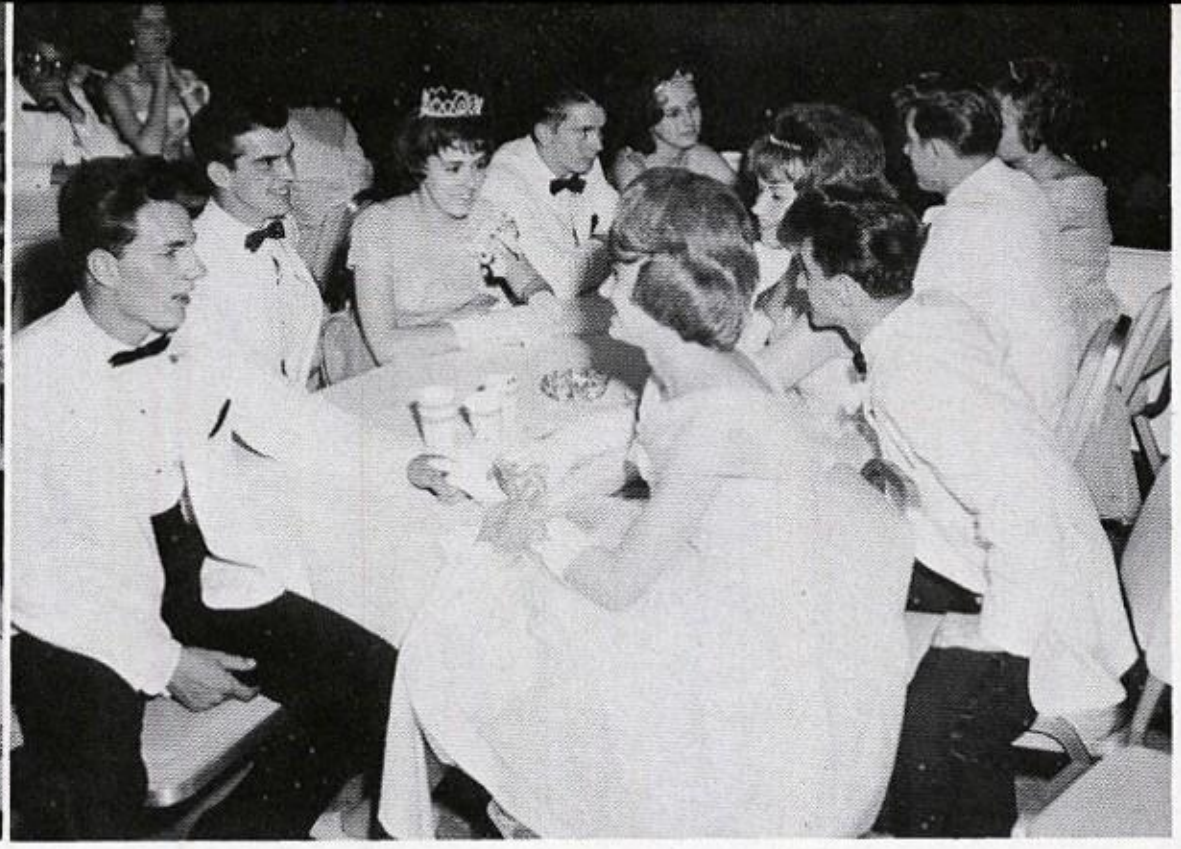


"Shall we dance?"

"Tis the East and Juliet is the sun."

"Fancy meeting you here."

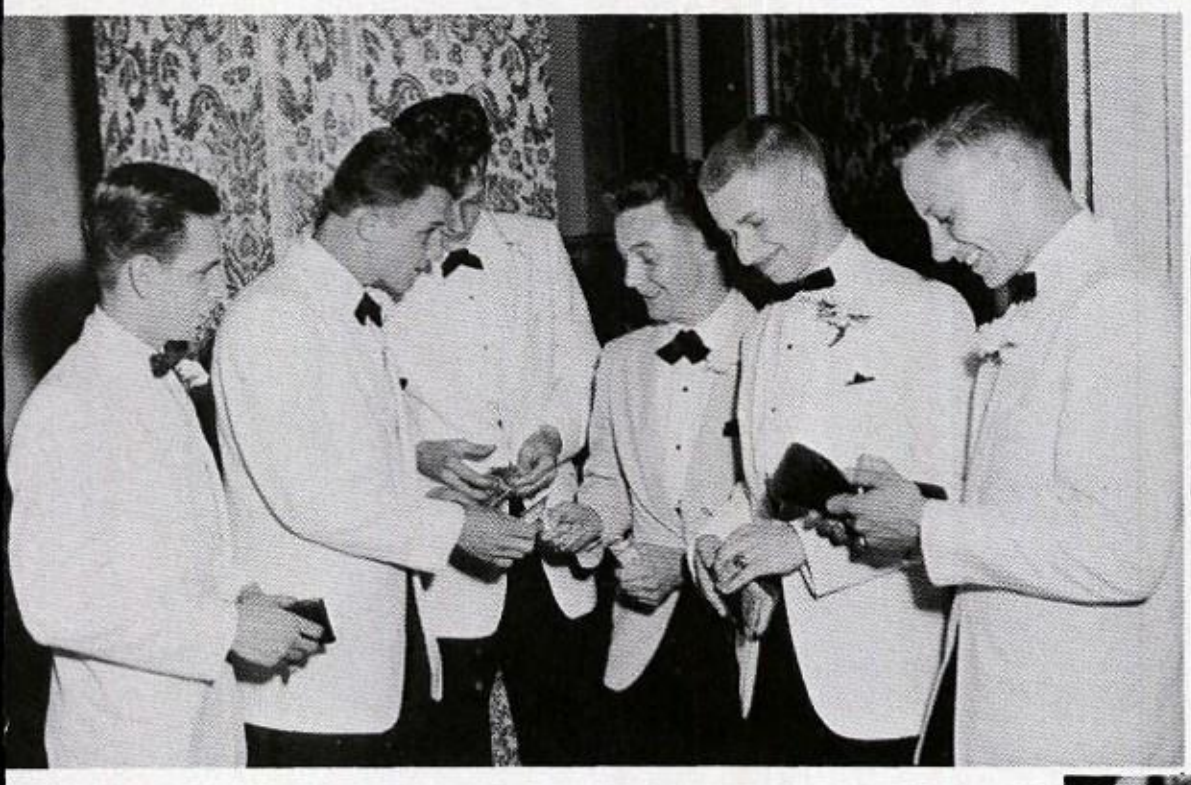
"Faithful and true hearted."



"Where do we go from here?"

"Who's next?"

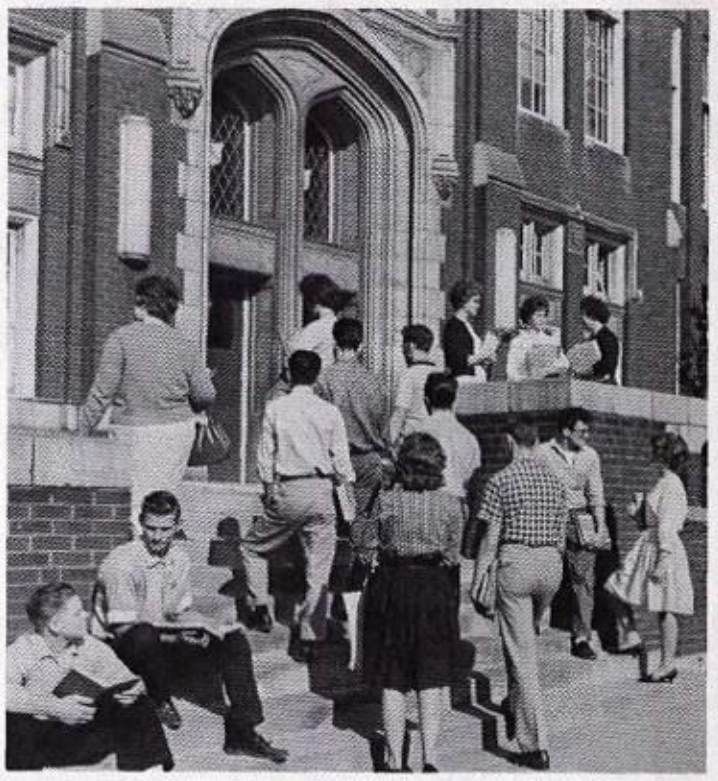
"After the ball is over."



"How much do you figure it will run?"

"Our president speaks!"

Get that ball!



Storming the bastille.

Long Day, even a longer wait

A cheerful number

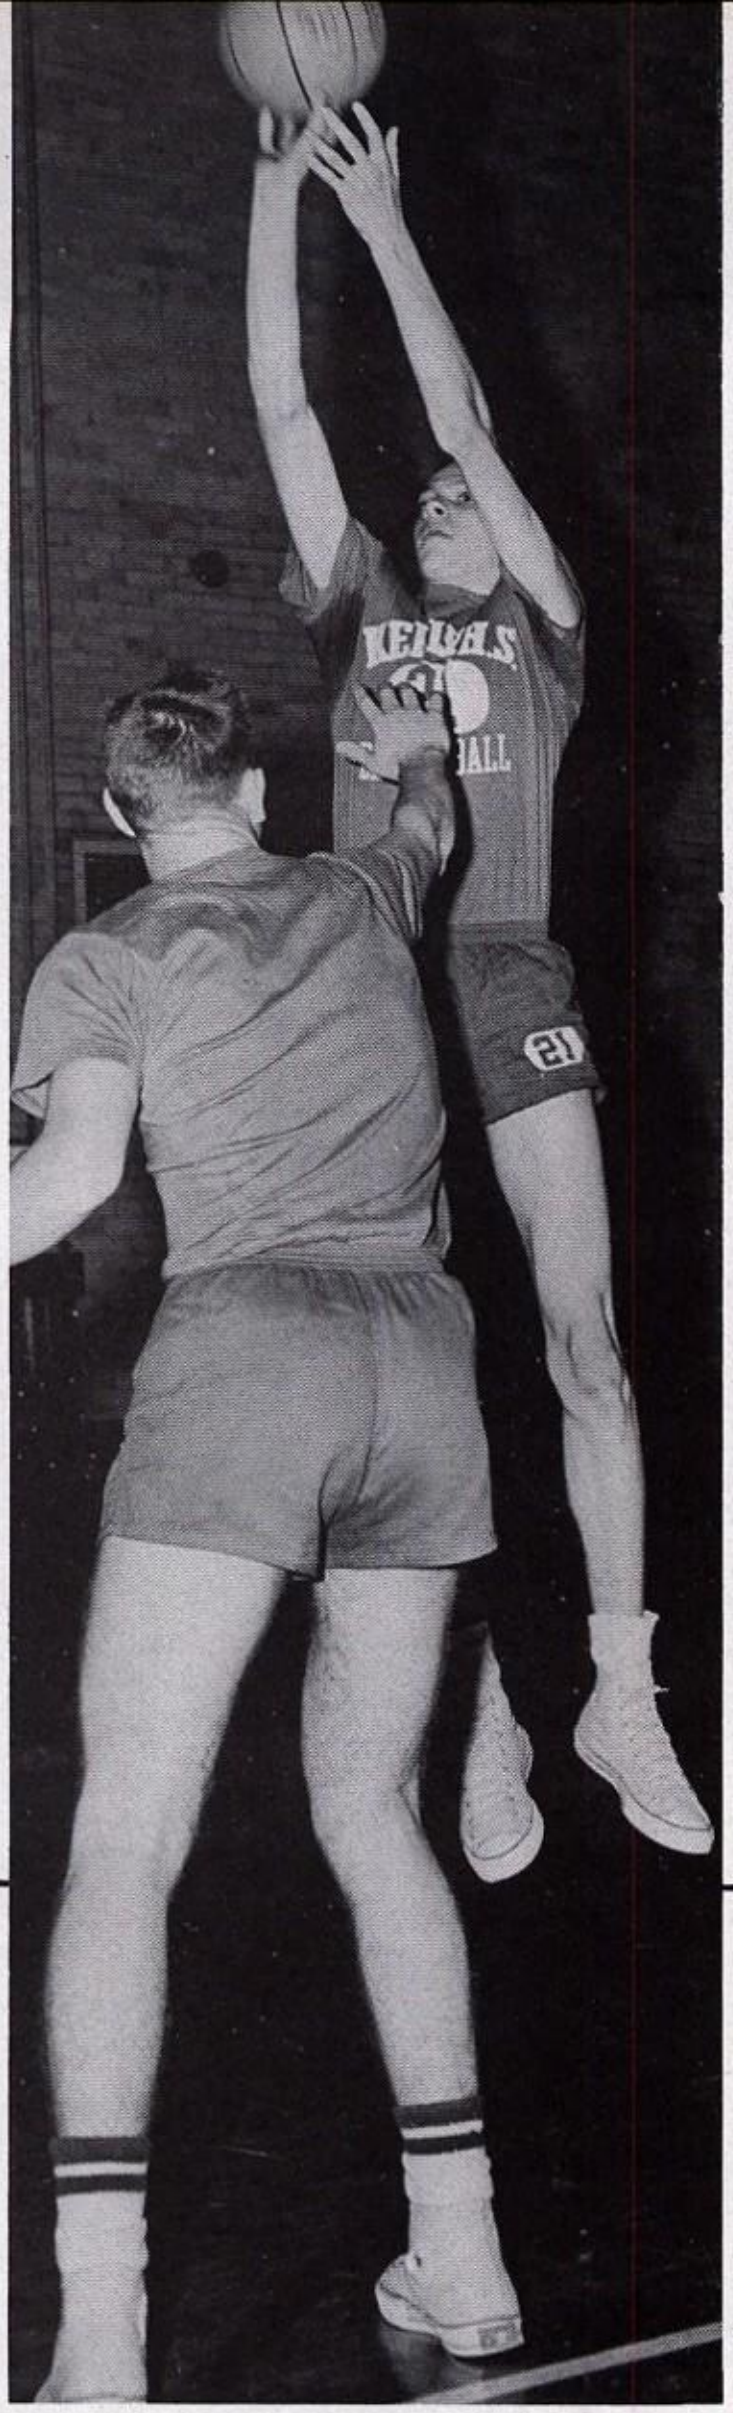
Twisted Twisters

Hey, long division twice this week!

Your pass, please



As the Seniors prepare to leave our school, our underclassmen get ready to take their places. Our future basketball players, our bookworms, our organization leaders, and our scientists are working together to form other outstanding senior classes.
